COMPARATIVES AND SUPERLATIVES

We use the comparative to compare one person or thing to another.	Ahmed is taller than Ali.
We use the superlative to compare one person or thing to all the others	Ammar is the tallest boy in class.

Formation

One syllable adjectives, or two syllable adjectives ending in -y
adjective	comparative	superlative	Rule
old	older	oldest	Add –er, –est
hot	hotter	hottest	With short vowels double the consonant
large	larger	largest	If the adjective ends in –e, just add –r, –st
happy	happier	happiest	If the adjective ends in –y, change it to –i and add –er.
Irregular adjectives			Write your own examples
good	better	the best
bad	worse	the worst
far	farther/further	The farthest/furthest little	less	the least
much/many	more	the most

Two syllable and longer adjectives helpful	more/less helpful than	(the) least/most helpful	Add more (+), or less (-) dangerous	more/less dangerous than	(the) most/least dangerous	(the) most (++),or (the) least (--)

Equal adjectives

When we compare two things that are equal we use: as + adjective + as e.g. He is as tall as his brother.

When we compare two things that are not equal we use: not as + adjective + as e.g. She isn't as fast as Sama.

QUESTION TAGS

A question tag is a short phrase used at the end of a statement in spoken English that turns it into a question. We use question tags in spoken English to check information and to keep the conversation going.

Question tags are formed using auxiliaries (do, be, have or a modal + subject pronoun).

Positive statements have a negative tag.

Negative statements have a positive tag.

They are Omani, aren't they?

He's very kind, isn't he?

He is-----,	isn't he?
They are-----,	aren't they?
She was-----,	wasn't she?
The boys were-----,	weren't they?
Children do-----,	don't they?
Omar does-----,	doesn't he?
Suhaila has-----,	hasn't she?
We have-----,	haven't we?
Ahmed can-----,	can't he?
Doctors will-----,	won't they?

في حالة وجود فعل مساعد أو فعل ناقص إذا كانت الجملة مثبتة يكون السؤال منفي وإذا كانت الجملة منفية فالسؤال مثبت.

Negative tags

We use a negative tag when we expect that answer will be yes.

A: He lives in Nizwa, doesn't he?

B: Yes, that's right, he does.

Positive tags

We use a positive tag when we expect that the answer will be no.

A: He lives in Sur, does he?

B: No, he doesn't.

They play-----,	don't they?
Ahmed plays-----,	doesn't he?
Omar played-----,	didn't he?

في حالة عدم وجود فعل مساعد أو فعل ناقص نستخدم don't, doesn't or didn't حسب زمن الجملة مضارع أم ماضي.

Imperatives

After an imperative we use will you? Or won't you?

Sit down, will you? Sit down, won't you?

The imperative with be also uses will or won't.

Be quiet, will you? Be quiet, won't you?

The imperative with have also uses will or won't.

Have a chair, won't you?

NB: Let's watch a movie, shall we?

I am dispensable, aren't I?

There is a cat under the table, isn't there?

Omar had a nice bike, didn't he?

Sama had been to India, hadn't she?

2. Use :

1. For completed actions in a time before now

للتعبير عن حدث تم واكتمل في الماضي وانتهت صلته بالحاضر

- Omar went to Salalah last summer * Nada attended the meeting this morning
- We ate fish in a Pakistani restaurant two weeks ago. It was delicious

2. For . Finished actions, states or habits in the past when we know from general knowledge that the time period has finished. This includes when the person we are talking about is dead.

للتعبير عن حدث متاكدين انه تم وان من قام به متوفي الان

- Leonardo painted the Mona Lisa.
- The Vikings invaded Britain.

3: We use it with finished actions, states or habits in the past that we have introduced with the present perfect or another tense. This is sometimes called 'details of news'.

- I've hurt my leg. I fell off a ladder when I was painting my bedroom.
- I've been on holiday. I went to Egypt and Oman.

للتعبير عن حدث في الماضي تزامن وقوعه مع حدث اخر كالمضارع التام مثلا بغرض اضافة تفاصيل للحدث

Grade 11

4: For stories or lists of events, we often use the past simple for the actions in the story and the past continuous for the background.

- He went to a café. People were chatting and music was playing. He sat down and ordered a coffee.
- One day there was a kind king. He lived in a big palace in the forest with his beautiful daughter. She had a scary dream. She dreamt that she .....

Unreal or imaginary things in the present or future.

5: We use the past simple to talk about things that are not real in the present or future. So we use it with the second conditional and after words like 'wish'.

- If I won the lottery, I would buy a house.
- I wish I had more time!

3. Negation:

إذا كان في الجملة was – were تنفى بوضع not بعدهم :

I was clever at the exam. — I was not stupid.

They were short at primary school. — They weren't tall.

في حالة عدم وجود was – were تنفى الجملة بإضافة didn't

وتضاف didn't بعد الفاعل والفعل بعدها للابد وأن يكون مصدر بدون أي اضافات

The Present perfect with 'just', 'still', 'already', and 'yet'

* We often use the present perfect with 'already' to show that something happened sooner than the speaker expected.

* 'Already' usually comes between has/have and the past participle or at the end of a sentence.

You're late. We've already started. He's seen this film five times already.

* The present perfect is also used with 'just' to describe a very recent event.

* 'Just' usually comes between has/have and the past participle.

I've just seen a really great film. Have you just arrived?

* We also often use the present perfect with 'yet' to mean 'until now' and to show that the speaker is *expecting something to happen. 'Yet' usually comes at the end of questions and negative sentences.

Nasser hasn't come yet. Has Wissam phoned yet?

* We use 'still' to talk about continuing situations. 'Still' usually comes before hasn't or haven't.

I still haven't seen the new James Bond film. He still hasn't eaten his dinner.

I'm bored, not boring.

Sample evaluative essay

"Life in former times was superior to life these days" Do you agree or not? Give reasons.

People's life differs from one period of time to another. Some people think that life in former times was superior to life these days. However, I strongly believe that the way we lived in the past was actually much worse for three important reasons

The main reason why the way we live today is better than how we lived previously is because of healthcare. Nowadays, doctors can easily cure many of the illnesses that killed our ancestors. In addition, doctors can provide us with vaccinations that can prevent us from catching a disease at all.

Another reason why our lives are an improvement on those who lived earlier is the availability of education. In our time, the citizens of many countries have free education from the age of five or six, and if they study hard enough, they can go to college or university, whereas in the past only a few rich people received an education.

Finally, there are so many more job opportunities now compared with the past. For example, although our grandfathers often had to follow the same career as those who came before them, we can choose a job which interests us. We spend one third of our time at work, so this is very important.

In conclusion, I strongly disagree with the argument that life in the past was much better than life today because of improved medical care, education and employment opportunities available nowadays.

Read the text about applying for a job. Then, for each item, shade in the bubble ⬭ next to the correct option.

Dear Sir / Madam,

I would like to apply for the job of a tour guide for your Overland Africa tours. I have had lots of useful experience for this job.

I have spent five months backpacking around Africa. In 2018, I visited Ethiopia, Kenya and Tanzania. This trip taught me to be independent and to organise travel arrangements myself such as transports, accommodation, food and visas. I enjoyed meeting local people, learning about local traditions and visiting natural parks. I read and learned a lot about the culture and wildlife, and I even learned some Swahili and Afrikaans.

I have also worked as a leader at a children's summer camp in the south of England. I worked there in 2017. I led activities for children aged 9-12, including football, climbing and campfire songs and games. For this work, I received training in climbing instructions and First aids. During this time, I developed many useful skills. For example, I had to ensure the children were always safe and happy. I learned how to be helpful and positive, and I learned ways to entertain people and help them to be more social, make friends when they are with strangers.

In addition, I have completed the Active Youth Challenge. I did this while I was at high school in 2016. To complete this challenge, I firstly had to volunteer with a local organisation. I helped at a social club for the elderly, where I chatted and played games with the members. This experience taught me to be patient and friendly. Secondly, I had to learn something by myself. I learned car mechanics, which taught me some useful, practical skills. Thirdly, I organised a four-day camping and hiking trip in the Scottish mountains with other students from my school. I learned about using camping equipment and dealing with problems like bad weather and getting lost.

I believe I have lots of useful experience to work as an Overland Tour Guide. I would love the opportunity to tell you more about my skills at an interview.

Yours faithfully,

Nicholas Rigby

Read the text about A World Record Breaker. Then complete the tasks.

Ashrita Furman is a record-breaker. He has set more records than anyone else has in the world. In the last 40 years, he has established more than 600 records. When he was a child, Ashrita loved reading the Guinness Book of World Records. He wanted to be in it too, so he thought people had to be good at sports to be in the book. He was not a good athlete. He felt his dream would never come true. However, later in life, Ashrita learned thinking carefully about his dream. Thus, he believed that nothing is impossible. He tested this idea in 1978 by entering a 24-hour bike race in New York. Without any training, Ashrita came third! After that, he started thinking about breaking records again.

First, he tried to break the record for the most jumping jacks. He failed at first, but, remembering that 'anything is possible', he trained, thought well and tried again. This time, he did 27,000 jumping jacks in 6 hours 45 minutes and became the new record holder. His achievement appeared in the 1980 Guinness Book of Records.

Today, Ashrita has a long list of records, including walking the furthest distance with a bike on his chin, cycling the longest distance with a bottle on his head and lighting the most candles on a birthday cake. He says: "I choose ideas which are challenging and childish! I enjoy practising and seeing my progress." He says his favourite record was "the longest distance on a pogo stick". While he was on holiday in Japan, he saw Mount Fuji and thought it was beautiful, so he decided to try to break a record there. He climbed it in 11.5 miles. The most difficult record was "the most forward rolls". In 10 hours and 30 minutes, he rolled his body in 8,341 forward circles for 12 miles.

If you want to break a world record too, Ashrita gives this advice. "Choose something you enjoy because you will need to practise and don't give up. Your mind will tell you that something is impossible, but it is not. If you see someone doing something difficult, try it and don't ignore it!"

Read the text about. Then, for each item, shade in the bubble ⬭ next to the correct option.

Dear Mr. Nasser,

I hope this e-mail finds you well. We're excited to extend a warm invitation to a 5km charity run. It is a special voluntary event that we think could really make a difference in our community. We really need you to join us to make this project successful, and we would be honored if you could be a part of it.

Our event is named as " Hope for Tomorrow" and will take place on Saturday, April 20th. The location will be the City Park, where participants can easily reach using google map or any other navigational application. The run starts at 7am not after, as it's kindly recommended. The earlier it starts, the better it would be as we're looking for the participants convenience as much as possible.

The charity run aims to raise funds for local shelters and community outreach programme. In additional to that, it's meant to engage the community to promote physical activity as well as create entertaining atmosphere for families. It will involve family-friendly activities such as face painting and a mini carnival and, most interestingly, local food will be served there.

To prepare for a charity run, create a training plan with a mix of running, cross-training, and rest days, so run for short mileage if you're new to running. Also, you need to take rest and do simple exercises like stretching or yoga, and ensure proper hydration and a balanced diet. Before race day, run in the clothes and shoes you plan to wear to check for comfort and avoid skin burns.

Thank you for considering our initiative. If you have any question or require further information, feel free to use any available contact option. Specifically, you contact us by e-mail. Also, a contact number will be at your service at any time by calling or even sending a WhatsApp message. In case you couldn't be present at the day of the event, you can donate online visiting the website given underneath.

Best regards,

Organization team.

READING 3 (Items 13-20) (8 marks)

Read the text about festivals. Then complete the tasks.

Festivals are special times where people come together and celebrate. Most of these celebrations are to do with religion and beliefs. Special events in country's history or the changing seasons are also celebrated. Singing and exchanging gifts are popular rituals and often form part of any annual festival.

Pictures and objects also have a special meaning at festival time. For example, golden fish becomes symbols of wealth at Chinese New Year.

Different cultures share the same symbols in their festivals. Christians light candles at Christmas and Hindus do the same for Diwali. People dressing up in costumes and sharing meals together are popular festive activities in many parts of the world.

Thanksgiving is celebrated in November. It's a national holiday where people get together to share the traditional dinner of turkey and pumpkin pie. Thanksgiving started in the autumn of 1621. A group of European settlers in North America invited the Indians to join them for their first harvest in a thanksgiving feast because the Indians had taught them how to grow crops.

Halloween is celebrated on the 31st of October, the night before All Saint's Day. Typical festive activities include trick-or-treating dressing up in costumes, carving jack-o'-lanterns, lighting bonfires, and apple bobbing. Lighting candles and putting them inside frightening pumpkin pie faces scare away evil spirits at Halloween.

Every year in July, people in Uban Ratchathani Thailand celebrate the candle festival. Tourists from all over the country come to Uban to look at huge wax candles that are paraded through the streets. There is music, dancers, a huge market and even a competition for artists to design the best candle.

Day of the Dead is celebrated on November 1st in Mexico, Ecuador, Guatemala and other parts of central and south America. Families gather to pray to dead relatives and ask them to return for just one night. So, they decorate their homes and gravesites with food, candles, candy skulls and flowers to welcome the dead back to earth. People dress up as skeletons and parade through the streets.
